Tip of the Month

Loss Mitigation

Initially, the most critical course of action in restoring a water damaged structure is to respond quickly. Once the source has been controlled, the paperwork signed, and potential safety hazards identified and secured the technicians should begin loss mitigation taking all reasonable and prudent steps to preserve, protect and secure the affected areas.

Featured Project

Residential home floods in Cypress, CA affecting a bathroom, office, and family room. Excel is able to respond in a timely manner and start repairs the next day after dry out is complete.
